When you get ready to move, you grab some boxes and start packing, because a box is a box right? Wrong. It helps to know what to pack and what box. Carmack Moving & Storage has provided some recommendations on what to use.

Small Box (approx. 1.5-3.1 cubic feet):

Fragile and smaller, heavy items should go in these boxes. The smaller the box, the heavier you can pack it.

Some recommended items may include:

Canned goods

CDs / DVDs

Toys

Odds and ends

Baby items

Fragile/glass items

Toiletries

Tools

Dishes

Cleaning Products

Kitchenware

Small electronics/video game systems

Medium Box (approx. 4-5 cubic feet):

Bulkier, awkwardly-shaped items should be packed in a medium box. About 1-3 items of average weight would be best for this box.

Some recommended items may include:

Kitchenware

Pots and pans

Small appliances

Shoes/boots

Computer towers

Small lamp shades

Everyday clothing

Large Box (approx. 6+ cubic feet):

Large boxes should be packed with light bulky items. As long as the box doesn't get too heavy, feel free to stuff it full.

Some recommended items may include:

Linens	Camping gear
Throw blankets	Sleeping bags
Lamps	Large duvets
Towels	Large household items
Jackets

Dish Pack

These are double walled boxes that offer strength and protection for your everyday and fine china dishes.

Some recommended items may include:

Fine china	Porcelain keepsakes
Wine glasses	Plates/bowls
Ornaments	Small breakables

Mirror Carton

These cartons are telescopic and can expand up to 72". They can be stacked on each end of a picture/mirror.

Some recommended items may include:

Mirrors	Canvas paintings
Pictures
